SU GIVING DAY

SU's Giving Day is April 3! Make your gift to any part of campus (such as the SU Libraries) and double or triple your impact. Gifts from students will be matched 2:1 up to $200 to the same area of campus. Gifts from alumni and friends will be matched 1:1 up to $100 to the same area of campus. Visit www.salisbury.edu/giving/giving_day.html for more information.

Printing—It's Not Just a First-Floor Thing

Need to print a paper or an article you need for an assignment? There are GoPrint stations all over the GAC, not just in the two printing areas on the 1st floor. You will also find them on the 2nd floor by the Writing Center and in the Café (also a mobile print station), on the 3rd floor in front of the seminar rooms (also mobile) and in the southwest corner of the Quiet Study Reading Room, and on the 4th floor in the little room by the women's rest room (also mobile).

Database Trials: Your Feedback Needed

Each winter, the SU Libraries tries out new databases to consider for acquisition. To the right is the list of what we have on trial this year. Please take a look at bit.ly/SUDatabase18 to connect to the trials and provide your feedback. Do they have sources you will use and that fill a need we otherwise aren't meeting? Are they easy to use? We can't guarantee we'll be able to get any of them, but we would like to establish a priority list. Thanks!

Did You Know ... that in 1987, Senator Orrin Hatch introduced in Congress a joint resolution that became Public Law 100.9, making March Women's History Month in the U.S. You can read more about women's history issues in Women and Social Movements in the United States, 1600-2000, a database available on the SU Libraries' A to Z database list.
