

Institute for Retired Persons Membership REQUEST FOR INFORMATION FORM

I want to expand my world and meet a group of interesting and cordial people by joining the Institute for Retired Persons. Please contact me with information about joining the IRP.

NAME: _____

ADDRESS: _____

CITY: _____

STATE: _____ ZIP: _____

PHONE: _____

E-MAIL: _____

Please send this form to:
Institute for Retired Persons
Office of the Registrar
Holloway Hall Room 120
Salisbury University
1101 Camden Avenue
Salisbury, MD 21801

Institute for Retired Persons

Office of the Registrar
Salisbury University
1101 Camden Avenue
Salisbury, MD 21801

Salisbury
UNIVERSITY

Offering continuing education for area residents ages 50 and above

Institute for Retired Persons

Salisbury
UNIVERSITY

WELCOME!

The Institute for Retired Persons (IRP) was recognized by Salisbury University in 1980. The IRP offers continuing education designed for adults aged 50 and above. Meeting at SU's Guerrieri University Center 2 p.m. Tuesdays during the University spring and fall semesters, the IRP offers programs to enlighten, educate and offer better understanding of our world. Membership is open to all.

SPEAKER PROGRAM

The IRP Program Committee sponsors a weekly lecture series during the academic year. Speakers include regional business and civic leaders as well as SU faculty who share their expertise (sometimes outside the bounds of their specific discipline). The lectures are informative and frequently fascinating. Here is a sample of recent topics:

- "Area Economic Conditions" with Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Brad Bellacicco
- "The Origins of Salisbury Through the 1860s" with Dr. G. Ray Thompson, SU History Department
- "America's Patriotic Music from the Revolutionary War to 9/11" with Ed Okonowicz, University of Delaware Music Department
- "Rome Collapsed; Are We Headed in the Same Direction?" with Peggy Fisk Genvert, SU History Department
- "Happiness After 50" with Dr. Eugene White, SU Psychology Department
- "Conflict in Belfast" with Dr. Betty McBrierty Powell, author of My Name Is Moraine

TRIPS

The IRP Tour Club organizes two trips each year, generally by chartered bus, to places within a two- to three-hour radius of Salisbury. Members are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity for a nominal fee (averaging $50). Recent trips include a visit to Winterthur and a tour of the The Ladew House and Boordy Vineyards.

CLUBS

Members are encouraged to participate in any of the various clubs the IRP offers that cater to the particular interests of its members. Current clubs include the Book, Bridge and Walking clubs.

ARTS AND CRAFTS SHOW

Annually the talented members of the IRP share their works at "A Well-Aged Exhibit." Installed in one of the University's gallery spaces, the exhibit features works created by IRP members including paintings, jewelry, needlework and sculpture.

UNIVERSITY BENEFITS

In addition to enjoying faculty presentations, IRP members have access to many of the facilities and events supported by Salisbury University. IRP members may use the University's pool for a small fee. A Holiday Luncheon and Spring Dinner are held at the University's award-winning dining facility and feature elegant table settings, delicious cuisine and entertainment.

POSITIVE CONTRIBUTIONS

Recognizing the need to support education, the IRP contributes to an SU student scholarship that honors students who excel in their studies, contribute to the community and are in need of financial support. The scholarship recipients visit during one of our meetings to share their academic plans and personal aspirations.

Join us for an upcoming meeting and you will be warmly welcomed.

Learn more about the IRP online at www.salisbury.edu/IRP

For further information please contact:

Office of the Registrar
Holloway Hall Room 120
Salisbury University
1101 Camden Avenue
Salisbury, MD 21801
Phone: 410-543-6150
E-mail: jmmaisel@salisbury.edu
Toll Free: 1-888-543-0148

Salisbury
UNIVERSITY