

SU facts (continued)

The Maryland Higher Education Commission reported in 2000 that SU's 4-, 5- and 6-year graduation rates were the highest in the University System of Maryland

When the nationally-syndicated game show Wheel of Fortune needed an architectural illustration to symbolize higher education for a special series involving college students, the producers chose SU's Holloway Hall, the campus' signature building

Over 50% of grant submissions in 2000-2001 were awarded

SU has students representing 33 foreign countries

SU competes in 19 NCAA Division III sports, nine men's and 10 women's

Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner Toni Morrison was the first SU Presidential Lecturer in 1999

The men's lacrosse team was NCAA Division III National Champion three times in the '90s

Businessman and entrepreneur Richard Bernstein endowed a campuswide business plan competition worth $5,000 to each year's winner

Think Salisbury
UNIVERSITY