

November 8th-10th, 2012
San Antonio, Texas, USA

38th Annual Meeting of The Association for Moral Education (AME)

The annual meeting will be held at The Historic Menger Hotel, San Antonio, Texas, which is next to both The Alamo—a major site of American, Texan, and Mexican History—and The River Walk—a public park lined with unique restaurants, hotels, attractions and more.

Our theme is Civility and Incivility: Respectful Disagreement in a Divided World. Civility as a topic of inquiry addresses the ability to work and live together while respecting ideological, political, interpersonal, and cultural differences. We hope at AME 2012 to explore some topics that divide philosophers, psychologists, educators, as well as people, nations, and families, and examine the question, “Is civility always good?” We welcome your work in this and other areas concerning moral education, psychology, philosophy, and development.

Kohlberg Memorial Lecture

Jonathan Haidt, Professor of Social Psychology at the University of Virginia, USA

Dr. Haidt will deliver the Kohlberg Memorial Lecture as well as participate in a formal discussion session with other members of AME. If you want to know more about Dr. Haidt’s work, you can access his home page at <http://people.virginia.edu/~jdh6n/>.

Important Dates:

Call for proposals: Winter 2012
Proposal Submissions Due: Spring 2012
Registration opens: Summer 2012
Submission Decisions, Distributed: Summer 2012

Additional Information and Updates available at <http://www.salisbury.edu/ame2012/>