PALS Members Get Things Done in May!
May was a busy month for ShoreCorps/PALS members. On May 1st, PALS members displayed storyboards describing their service in SU’s Link of Nations. Members were available to share information with those who passed by about some of the benefits of service through AmeriCorps.

On May 9th, Andrei Barjoveanu, Brittany Goff, Amy Jacocks, Shakeara Jones, Jessica Lindner, Jack Parker, and Cody Wehlan traveled to Baltimore for Destination AmeriCorps. This annual networking event for AmeriCorps members was hosted by Volunteer Maryland and the GOSV. Our PALS delegation enjoyed the opportunity to interact with other AmeriCorps members from around the state, meet GOSV staff, and explore other community service options.

Members enjoyed the last AmeriCorps class of the semester on May 15th. Reflection activities, a team-building challenge, and lunch with staff and site supervisors rounded out the class activities and provided a fitting end to the spring semester.

PALS members coordinated efforts with students in their programs to decorate boxes for Operation We Care, an organization which sends care packages to our military troops abroad. Pictures, stories, and messages of hope and appreciation added to the happiness for the men and women opening each package. Decorated boxes were collected and returned to Operation We Care Coordinator Jeff Merritt for the next packing event.

On the last Thursday in May PALS members enjoyed esprit de corps as they took a road trip to the Fiber Arts Center of the Eastern Shore in Denton. Amy Jacocks gave a tour of her service site and introduced us to Marina Dowdall, Caroline County Council of Arts Director. Amy taught everyone a lesson in batik, and members were delighted with the finished products!
