The Salisbury University Foundation welcomes a new executive director, Albert C. Mollica. Mollica is also the University’s vice president for University advancement, with responsibility for alumni relations, development, public relations, publications, WSCL public radio and the Salisbury Symphony Orchestra.

Before joining Salisbury, Mollica served for seven years as the vice president for institutional advancement at Cabrini College near Philadelphia. During his tenure at Cabrini, a private, Roman Catholic college of some 2,000 students, Mollica raised over $11 million. He increased Cabrini’s donor base by 62 percent, increased the number of $1,000 and over donors by 115 percent, and successfully completed three capital project campaigns of $2-4 million each.

Mollica earned his Master of Arts in education from Delaware State in 1994 and his Bachelor of Arts in psychology from Shippensburg University of Pennsylvania in 1976. He and his wife Beth have three children, Lauren, 18, Julianna, 9, and Nicholas, 7.
Generosity

Dr. Irving Cort, father of SU Foundation Board member Bruce Cort, was a pioneer in the invention of prosthetic limbs.

Board Responds Generously

A generous gift made by Salisbury University Foundation, Inc. board member, Bruce Cort (SU ‘71), to honor the memory of his parents, Irving and Sylvia Cort, stimulated the greatest internal giving challenge ever presented to the membership of the Foundation. Cort’s initial gift of $35,000 benefits the chemistry department of the University.

In celebration of the 75th Anniversary of Salisbury University, Cort, chair of the board’s Gifts and Development Committee, issued a challenge to his fellow board members to contribute a total of $75,000 to the Foundation.

Numerous members of the board rose to the occasion and exceeded the goal and collectively generated nearly $89,000. Cort stated, “This is exemplary and shows our deep level of commitment, respect and affection for SU!”
