Administrative History: The Thomas E. Bellavance Honors Program is designed to bring together high-achieving students and dedicated faculty in a small university environment within the diversity of opportunity of the larger university community. It offers motivated students who are serious about their intellectual growth a variety of special classes enhanced by many cultural events and activities. The program fosters close individual contact between students and faculty and brings together talented students with many interests. Honors courses and extracurricular activities are intended to enrich and complement other educational opportunities and programs available to Salisbury University students.

Scope and Content Note: The records consist of correspondence, thesis proposals, class rosters, pamphlets, The Saunterer newsletter and photographs documenting the activities of the Thomas E. Bellavance Honors Program. Included are documents pertaining to the Honors Society Association and Honors Program Committee.

Arrangement Statement: The records are arranged in 5 series. Series I contains historical materials and the Saunterer newsletter. Series II consists of class rosters, course offerings and thesis proposals. Series III contains various correspondence, forms, pamphlets and news items pertaining to Honors Program activities. Series IV documents the Honors Society Association and the Honors Program Committee. Series V contains photographs.
