Administrative History: Holloway Funeral Home began serving the people of Delmarva in 1883, to provide the best funeral services in the area. Cabinet maker, Samuel J.R. Holloway (1859-1934), crafted the necessary materials for the business including the caskets and the horse-drawn- carriage. As founder Samuel Holloway grew older, his son Walter (1899-1983), took over the family business with continued professionalism and care. As the business grew, the funeral home relocated to its current location on Snow Hill Road in Salisbury. Today, the fifth generation of the Holloway family maintains the business with continued care and the observance of the passage of life.
