Dr. William Harvey Wroten Jr., professor emeritus of history, died March 18, 2006. Dr. Wroten taught at SU for 25 years before retiring in 1980. An accomplished historian and writer, Wroten assigned all future royalties of his best-known work, Asateague, to the SU Foundation, Inc. This generous and unique gift benefits the University’s Nabb Research Center for Delmarva History and Culture. Before his passing, Wroten established the Patricia White Wroten Piano Concert Series Endowment to perpetuate the memory of his beloved wife, a well-known Salisbury piano instructor. Her love of music was reflected in the concert series inaugurated by pianist Andreas Klein.
