Showcase Your Skills with Experience Portfolio

Getting in front of employers and expressing how valuable you are on just a piece of paper is a challenge, no matter what career you're planning to pursue after college. There's so much more to showcasing your skills, talents and experiences - and the more tools you have to help you, the better.

Through our partner Experience, Salisbury University is pleased to introduce the Experience Portfolio. The Portfolio provides a way for you to go beyond your resume to recount personal experiences, define accomplishments and upload files and work samples that demonstrate the qualities and skills that a standard resume just can't. Here's your opportunity to let your true personality shine.

There are a multitude of benefits for any student, especially those of you who are new to the college experience. As a freshman or a sophomore you can start gathering all of your unique experiences early so that when the time comes to begin preparing for life after college, you're two steps ahead of everybody else.

You can share your Portfolio with your career center, mentors, professors and potential employers. In your portfolio, you'll find four primary components:
- Profile: keep your contact information and career interests' fresh
- Resume: searchable by employers, it incorporates your work history, education, organizations, skills and certifications
- Experiences: talk about internships, expand on items in your resume and other notable things you've done that really show off your talents and your personality
- References: have your references ready should an employer ask for them

We encourage you to get started in creating a Portfolio so you can manage your job search process with ease and connect with the right employer for you. Anything you can do now to prepare for your career is worth it!
