Amplification of Promotions Committee Deliberations

The University Committee on Promotions, which consists of seven (7) faculty elected by the faculty, makes recommendations regarding candidates for promotion to the provost and president. The authority to promote or not promote a faculty member resides with the president of the university. The committee serves to provide the president with a faculty perspective on the applications for promotion.

The committee reviews the applications of candidates for promotion in light of the criteria stated in the Faculty Handbook. After each candidate's application has been scrutinized by individual committee members, the committee meets to discuss and vote on the candidates. Candidates must receive at least five (5) votes in favor of promotion in order to win the recommendation of the committee. Candidates who receive five (5) or more unfavorable votes will receive an unfavorable recommendation from the committee. When candidates do not receive the required five (5)—favorable or unfavorable—votes in the first round, their strengths and weaknesses are further discussed and further votes are taken until the candidate receives the necessary five (5) votes.

The only considerations in the committee's discussions of a candidate are those related to the criteria for the rank sought. Teaching is the primary criterion for promotion, and no one will be recommended who has not in the opinion of the committee demonstrated proficiency in the classroom. Achievement in professional development and service are also expected of all candidates but the balance will vary among candidates. The committee's standards may change slightly from year to year as its membership changes, but there has been no conscious decision by the committee to raise or lower standards.

After the committee has completed its evaluation of the applications, it meets with the provost to recommend those candidates that it believes have met the criteria for promotion. The committee chair reports the committee's recommendation on each candidate with a brief rationale based on the committee's discussions. The provost uses this input in addition to the other materials in the applicant's file, including all the applicant's recommendations, in developing his/her own recommendations to the president, and the president then decides whether the faculty member is to be promoted or not. The president has the authority to deny promotion to those the committee has recommended and to promote those the committee has not recommended. After the committee has met with the provost, but before the provost makes his/her recommendations to the president, the provost and the committee chair will meet with applicants whom the committee has chosen not to recommend for promotion at the request of the applicant. Those applicants whom the University Committee on Promotions has chosen to recommend, but whom the provost intends not to recommend will be invited to a similar meeting.
