

Spring 2023 Workshops

GUERRIERI ACADEMIC COMMONS,
UNIVERSITY WRITING CENTER
(2ND FLOOR)

Creative Writing Workshop

With Dr. John. A. Nieves, SU Associate Professor of English

Wednesday, February 8 ■ 7:30-8:30 p.m.

In his workshop, Nieves invites writers of all ages to explore the possibilities of the written word to help us re-understand the world around us.

Skills for Middle & High School Writers Workshop

With Dr. Erin Stutelberg, SU Associate Professor of Secondary and Physical Education

Monday, March 13 ■ 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Stutelberg is joined by secondary English education teacher candidates for this workshop where middle and high school students and teachers have an opportunity to play with language and other forms of creative expression, try out multiple genres of writing, collaborate and learn with others, and share work in an encouraging space.

Nature Journaling Workshop

With Dr. Jessie Rack, Natural History Institute (Prescott, AZ) Program Director

Tuesday, April 11 ■ 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Rack leads participants through a nature journaling activity for writers of all ages and backgrounds! Learn to use your senses for observation in nature by sharpening your ability to notice details, stretching your imagination and employing your memory.

Make Tomorrow Yours

Register online: <https://bit.ly/3YnSrp6>

CO-SPONSORED BY THE UNIVERSITY WRITING CENTER
AND THE FULTON PUBLIC HUMANITIES PROGRAM.

