

Area Studies Minors Interdisciplinary Studies Program Fulton School of Liberal Arts

PROGRAM MINORS

- African Studies
- Africana Studies
- Asian Studies
- European Studies
- Latin American Studies
- Middle East Studies

There is a world of benefits to studying other cultures, including increased knowledge of international people, cultures and careers. Salisbury University students have the opportunity to view the world from multiple perspectives. The Fulton School offers several exciting area studies minors to help prepare our students for life, work and citizenship in the global 21st century.

About The Minors

The Area Studies Minors are interdisciplinary, so students view an area of the world from multiple perspectives. They require at least 18 hours in different areas of arts, humanities and social science. Some area studies minors require foreign language and study abroad, and all offer credit for these experiences. Students are encouraged to spend as much time studying abroad as possible. Each minor includes a Salisbury Abroad option that features at least one SU foreign partner institution where students may choose to spend a full semester abroad and take up to four courses/16 credits toward the minor via SU courses taught abroad.

International Advantage

The minors are specifically designed so that students may complete the minor, in most cases, in one semester at SU and one semester abroad. For a full list of countries where you can study, visit: salisbury.edu/explore-academics/study-abroad.aspx

This makes it relatively easy and convenient for students to pick up one of these exciting and useful minors, as well as experience a full semester abroad in the process, no matter what the student's major. They may earn up to four courses/16 credits because the courses in question are considered SU courses – not transfer courses/credits; they are simply delivered off the SU campus and by foreign partner institution faculty. Students may also choose to study abroad via an institution or study abroad provider other than an SU foreign partner institution. In these programs, students – as per SU regulations – may only transfer nine credits into the minor and the grades for these credits/courses are not factored into the students' SU GPA.

FACULTY

The Area Studies Minors are linked to a number of exciting destinations. For more information on the countries you can visit and study, please contact the area coordinator:

- Africana Studies
Dr. Fulbert Namwamba
410-546-6217
fnamwamba@salisbury.edu
- African Studies
Dr. Elizabeth Ragan
410-548-4502
earagan@salisbury.edu
- Asian Studies
Dr. Joerg Tuske
jptuske@salisbury.edu
Dr. Michael McCarty
mbmccarty@salisbury.edu
410-677-5369
- European Studies
Dr. Kristen Walton
410-543-6502
kpwalton@salisbury.edu
- Latin American Studies
Dr. Ricardo Vazquez
410-677-0148
rvazquez@salisbury.edu
- Middle East Studies
Dr. Emin Lelic
exlelic@salisbury.edu

Broaden your education with experiential, hands-on learning opportunities, both at SU and all over the world!

CONTACT INFORMATION

For more information on the area studies minors:
Dr. Elizabeth Ragan | 410-548-4502 | earagan@salisbury.edu

Make Tomorrow Yours

salisbury.edu/areastudies

SU is an Equal Opportunity/AA/Title IX university and provides reasonable accommodation given sufficient notice to the University office or staff sponsoring the event or program. For more information regarding SU's policies and procedures, please visit salisbury.edu/equity.