ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

Avery Showell & Matt Jackson

Avery Showell '17 graduated from Salisbury with a B.A. in communication arts and a minor in political science, and Matt Jackson '16 graduated with a B.A. in interdisciplinary studies. Their experiences at Salisbury, where they created a radio show, led them to their careers today as co-hosts of "the factory" (thfctry) a resource for fans to hear offerings in hip-hop and R&B. They recently were interviewed by The Washington Post and have formed new and creative partnerships with streaming music platform Audiomack to continue to prioritize upcoming artists and exclusive interviews, playlists and content.

SU Entrepreneurship Events Go Virtual

Salisbury University's Perdue School of Business is still helping make entrepreneurial dreams a reality! SU's Ratcliffe Shore Hatchery and Student Entrepreneurship Competition both went virtual this spring due to COVID-19.

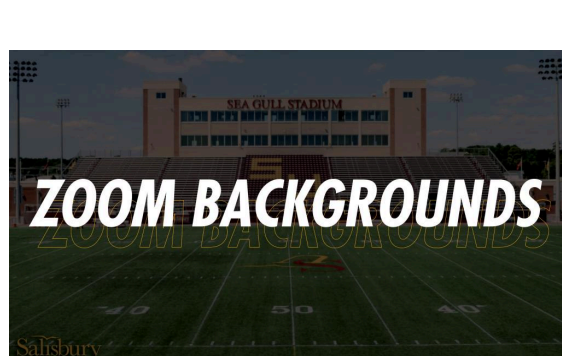

Organizers took the two major events online in a matter of weeks, with over 75 students and other participants competing for over $200,000 in cash prizes, awards and services between both events.

Edward H. Nabb Research Center

In an effort to document the effect of the coronavirus on the Salisbury University community, the University Archives has established a COVID-19 Collection to document the experiences of students, faculty, staff and alumni of SU. If you are interested in donating materials such as journals, photographs and anything related to your experiences, follow the link below for more information.
