GAC EXHIBITS

Salisbury University's By-Gone Buildings

1st floor, Lobby, through December 16

Ever wonder what was here before our current array of impressive buildings? Here's the answer!

"Unmentionable: The Indiscreet Stories of Artifacts"

4th floor, Thompson Gallery, through December 16

This thought-provoking exhibit displays "unusual, scandalous, disturbing, awful, discriminatory, uncomfortable, and surprising artifacts" from our collection.

Student Research Posters

2nd, 3rd, and 4th floors

Come see the work of fellow SU students on display around the GAC.

Please ask for help!

If you need help finding or using library resources or you aren't sure where or what you can check out of the library, how to get access to books and articles we don't have, or any other library-related topics, please ask at the Library Service Desk on the Red Square end of the 1st floor. You are not bothering us! We want to help you. And if you find you are falling behind in classes, are struggling to manage your time well, or could use some help with your study skills or writing, please take advantage of the Center for Student Achievement, the Math Emporium (for math tutoring), and the University Writing Center, all on the GAC's 2nd floor. The IT Help Desk on the 1st floor can help with problems with your devices, network access, and similar issues. We are here to help, and there is no reason and no need to suffer in silence!

Thanks, Sea Gulls

The Princeton Review named the SU Libraries to its list of 25 "Best College Libraries." We were no. 23. The rankings are based on feedback from students, so thanks! This is quite an honor, and we are grateful to you. We love you right back! We will be having an event at some time in September in the GAC to thank you with sweets. Please stay alert—we will post information on the date/time on our digital signage and the Libraries' social media.

Did You Know? You can find a list and links to all our databases (many of which include full-text articles) on the A-Z List at libraryguides.salisbury.edu/az.php. The databases are available on campus computers as well as from off-site 24/7; you just have to log in using your SU ID. And you can find LibGuides—research guides—for every department and many individual classes at <https://libraryguides.salisbury.edu/>.
